

LABOR PARTY IS SUSTAINED ON CENSURE VOTE

London, England.—The MacDonald Labor Government was sustained in the House of Commons in face of a vote of censure on the Government's tariff policy moved by the Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative and opposition leader. The government was given a new lease of office, but the feeling is still general that the reverse on the Coal Mills bill was the handwriting on the wall. The vote was 205 to 235.

The Liberals had announced they would support the government; Sir Herbert Emmanuel (conservative), Mr. Snowden, the chancellor of the exchequer, on his fiscal policy, and Mr. Baldwin was reconciled, in advance, to the result.

"The government will win tonight," he said, "but rain washed away the corn harvest and so will employment wash away this government."

Had the Conservatives changed the wording of their motion the issue might have been in doubt. As it was the Liberals were also bound to vote with the administration when the safeguarding and Mr. Kennan duties and the government's supposed coldness to them were made the gauge of battle.

The Rt. Hon. Mr. Snowden, who blamed the opposition directly in the matter of unemployment. Their gloomy propaganda, he charged, had done much to aggravate the situation.

Mr. Baldwin dwelt upon the Empire aspect of the tariff. It was by his only that economic unity could be attained, he said. "I am not," he declared Mr. Baldwin, "to see any other way. Certain of the Dominions are going to imitate the tariff, and as soon as possible, Canada will do it probably faster than the others, and the will soon be one of the greatest countries of the world."

The general opinion of economists, said Mr. Churchill, was not in favor of sweeping away the duties but favored sensible additions to their number and the regularizing and systemizing of their character.

These duties had, in the first place, been valuable and brilliant experiments, but the Conservatives were emboldened by their success in this direction by an ever-growing number of opinion for further increases. "They did not wish these matters to be treated as party questions or as matters to be managed by newspapers."

The Rt. Hon. Wedgwood Benn was up to debate. The secretary of state for India, Mr. Churchill, with having abandoned his early free-trade faith.

Mr. Benn emphasized there were millions of unemployed in protective countries. He reminded the House of the Empire together by taxes on foreign foodstuffs.

A number of Conservatives left the House before the debate. The speech and the ironical cheers of the House members.

Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, who acted in behalf of Premier MacDonald, in reply to Mr. Baldwin's criticism, said:

"It is a fact that ever since this government came into office there has been an organized conspiracy. It has been the deliberate policy of certain interests to prevent employment in order to discredit the government."

The charred remains of the children—the youngest six months and the oldest two years old—were discovered among the smouldering ruins in the rubble of the parents' returned from the woods.

COL. BARKER, V.C. LOSES HIS LIFE IN AIRPLANE CRASH

Ottawa, Ont.—A national hero, whose fame in the air was known throughout the world, died in the Great War, in dead. Lieut.-Col. William George Barker, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., one of Canada's greatest war aviators, was killed when a new commercial biplane he had taken "up for a fly" crashed to earth.

"Nearly 10 minutes after he took off from the Rockfield aerodrome in the two-seater, a Fairchild plane, brought here for inspection by government officials of the Department of National Defence, civil aviation branch, the body of the gallant hero lay in the shore slush of the Ottawa River, about seven hours' wreckage.

An official board of inquiry, composed of three members of the civil aviation branch, has been set up to investigate the accident and attempt to determine its cause. To some among the many persons who were witnesses from the ground the cause of the crash, it appeared the engine stalled as he pulled the machine into a steep climb.

The crash occurred while the plane was flying at an altitude of 200 feet when the engine gave a tremendous roar as the pilot pulled the throttle wide open and the plane slipped upward.

From a climb to 150 feet, the plane faltered, hung suspended momentarily and then like a wounded bird plunged headlong to earth.

Life was extinct when horrified onlookers reached the wreckage. The man who came through scores and scores of hectic war combats with his life, although twice wounded, had apparently been killed instantly.

While Col. Barker was president of the Fairchild Aviation Corporation of Canada, manufacturers of the plane in which he met death, he was not putting the glowing new machine through its test paces when the tragedy occurred.

D. Campbell Shaw, Fairchild test pilot, was here for the demonstration. He said that while Col. Barker had been flying recently, he did not wish him to go up. One of the Colonel's men, who was almost owing to his war injuries.

The machine was in perfect shape and the controls responded readily, although the pilot, who flew the plane here from Montreal, previously Capt. Shaw had flown the plane from New York City to Montreal and a half-hour before the Fairchild Corporation president took the two-seater aloft, Capt. Shaw had put it through the series of varied exercises.

It was the first time Col. Barker had sat at the controls of a machine of the type in which he met his end. It was suggested he might have miscalculated the power of the engine to drive the machine in a climb.

The war record of the dead aviator, which included the shooting down of 52 enemy planes and possibly others, was not mentioned in the official obituary among Canadian fliers by Col. W. C. Bishop, another Victoria Cross winner.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss A. Smith, of Toronto, and their seven-year-old daughter, Antoinette.

Brind Takes Gloomy View

Head of French Naval Delegation Looks For Early Breakup Of Conference

London, England.—Aristide Briand, head of the French naval delegation, maintains that the five-power conference will not last more than a fortnight.

The French view is that a five-power treaty will result but after only technical questions amounting to a preliminary convention on which could be based a later League of Nations gathering to consider disarmament on land, sea and air.

"I have finished my role," he said. "And tomorrow the whole thing will be handed over to the delegations."

Meanwhile, in spite of official optimism the decisive point of the conference has now been reached and it comes almost entirely from France's insistence that her figures cannot be seriously reduced.

In this connection, Mr. MacDonald has great faith in Mr. Briand's power to effect a compromise which will allow reductions; but M. Briand, it is recognized, will be sure to do anything likely to be rejected by the French chambers.

While Mr. MacDonald does not want to see the isolation of France, even if she does persist in her present attitude, this will be the inevitable outcome unless greater progress is made towards finding a solution of the difficulties still to be overcome.

Officials state that they are pleased with the progress so far made. Labor members are telling the Prime Minister they are not.

Another Trip Planned

For Graf Zeppelin

Commander Of Driftless Outlines Plans For Visit To British Isles

Berlin.—The Graf Zeppelin, veteran of a flight around the world, will pay a 48-hour visit to the United States next May. Dr. X. Eckener, commander of the dirigible state in an interview.

Eckener outlined for the first time the complete itinerary of his forthcoming trip to the Americas, which will start probably between May 12 and 16.

Leaving Friedrichshafen, the Graf will make a 20-hour flight to Rio de Janeiro, and thence proceed directly across the south Atlantic to St. Louis, Brazil, in about 72 hours.

From Rio the dirigible will fly across the continent to New York, where a special meeting must have been held and preparations made for refuelling.

After remaining at Pernambuco 24 hours, the Graf will make a three-day flight via Jamaica, Haiti and Havana, Cuba, to Lakehurst, N.J., where it will stay two days.

From Lakehurst, a 50-hour flight will take the Zeppelin back to Friedrichshafen.

Detroit May Dismiss

All Alien Teachers

Mrs. Lindbergh Would Be One If Bill Is Passed

Detroit, Mich.—Following the lead of the city council, which recently ordered about 1,700 aliens employed in various city departments discharged, the board of education is considering dismissing 75 teachers who are aliens or non-residents of Detroit.

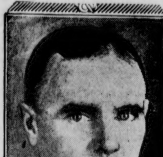

Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh, mother of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, is one of those who would be discharged if the resolution before the board of education is passed.

Seeking Tariff Changes

Liberal-Progressive Of Manitoba To Interview Minister Of Finance

Ottawa, Ont.—In view of the fact that the budget is expected to be brought down before the close of the month, the Liberal-Progressives of Manitoba have appointed a delegation to interview Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, and demand tariff reductions.

The Liberal-Progressives have made a close study of the tariff as it affects the agricultural industry of the province and will make specific recommendations for tariff reductions.

It is believed that they will ask that the duties be cut on motor trucks, kitchen utensils, paints and varnishes and several other commodities.

DISCUSS THE COST OF LIVESTOCK PRODUCTION

Conference To Be Held In Regina To Discuss The Problem Of Handling Feeds At Cost To Eastern Livestock Areas

Ottawa.—Investigation of the cost of raising livestock in Canada and the cause of wide price fluctuations were recommended by the conference of livestock raisers and agricultural departments, officers of co-operative agencies and producers here.

A proposal for a Royal commission to inquire into problems affecting the industry was dropped after prolonged discussion.

The conference re-affirmed the confidence of the livestock raisers in the principles of co-operative marketing. Organization of a committee to consider the problem of handling feeds at cost to eastern livestock areas was recommended.

Considerable time was taken up with hearing the problems of the poultrymen and considering ways and means to ameliorate their conditions.

The stock raisers difficulties were aired, and a general discussion took place, participated in by most of those present. The greatest handicap to the livestock industry at the present time was the lack of confidence in marketing methods. It was pointed out and improvement of these must take place before any betterment could ensue.

The speakers during the mid-afternoon for the interests of the primary producers was the cause of considerable dissatisfaction among the farmers, declared W. A. MacKay, of the Canadian Livestock Co-operative.

It was clear, however, that in some respects the producer had been careless of inefficiency, but this, he thought, could be overcome by a campaign of education in which all interests could effectively co-operate.

School Act Amendment

Display Of Religious Emblems Prohibited In Saskatchewan Schools

Regina.—Without amendment of any kind, the bill proposing to prohibit the display of any religious emblem or the wearing of a garb of any religious denomination by teachers in the public schools of the province, passed through the Saskatchewan Legislature, and now only awaits royal assent to become law. The measure, however, will not come into effect until July 1 next.

Practically no discussion took place when the bill was in committee of the whole. While there were a few interchanges across the floor of the House, very little debate took place while the bill was under consideration.

For the serious consideration of the board, a certain proposal made by Mr. Thomas, that I think would possibly be of some assistance in the developments," stated Mr. McPhail, in speaking to a meeting of the Regina Board of Trade.

"However, due to the very strong attitude taken by the pool people on this side of the water, the whole idea I think has been dropped entirely."

Mr. McPhail offered no further details of the "certain proposal," presumably considering that he has initiated a close study of the tariff as it affects the agricultural industry of the province and will make specific recommendations for tariff reductions.

It is recalled, however, that it was proposed that the men were in Britain, that suggestions had been made for shipments of British coal to Canada in tramp steamers, to be filled on the return trip with cargoes of Canadian wheat.

The old organized grain trade is "doomed" in Canada and elsewhere, in the opinion of Mr. McPhail.

To the people who would like to see the Pool collapsed, stated Mr. McPhail, there can be no consolation in the present situation of down-pressed grain prices. "If such a thing did happen within the next five years," he said, "the situation would be particularly disastrous to the old organized grain trade, because I have no doubt it would mean finally their complete elimination."

"I do not believe that even if the worst happened the farmers of this country will ever be content to return to the old system of marketing," he said, "and the old system of marketing which sells more than half of the grain at the local level of the Pool's 14,000 farmer members in the face of the most favorable conditions on the grain market."

"There has been no gigantic battle, no heroic struggle taking place," said the pool head, referring to reports of economic conflict between Europe and North America on a large scale of wheat. The real cause of the present situation, he said, was the very large 1929 crop in export countries; the large crop in Europe the same year; and the attitude of Argentine wheat handlers in dumping their surplus on the world market.

"There is general recognition that agriculture everywhere is in a serious plight," mentioned Mr. McPhail.

"I have grounds for believing that we can come out of this situation reasonably well," he said, "but I believe that we, as farmers, give very serious consideration to the future. Canadian farmers will do well to consider seriously their methods of production as well as the quality of their products. Quality is of supreme importance."

Glowing Future For Canada

Prediction Made by Official of French Steamship Line

A glowing future for Canada is foreseen by Maurice Beller, of Paris, France, managing director of the French Steamship Line. "Our belief in the future of the country is so substantial that we have just inaugurated a new north Pacific service with Vancouver as the head port," he said, on a visit to Ottawa, after a month's tour of this continent.

The new Pacific service, running via Los Angeles and the Panama Canal to Havre, France, involves expenditure of a great many millions of dollars, Mr. Beller said. The flagship of the fleet of eleven vessels will be the S.S. Winnipeg, largest ship of its type to enter Vancouver harbor, which Mr. Beller described as "a wonderful harbor."

"France needs a strong navy to protect her shipping and her far flung colonies," he declared, briefly discussing the London naval parity. France, economically speaking, is today not far from being back to pre-war status, Mr. Beller declared, with there being little or no unemployment in the country. The attitude of the common people in France, he said, is as warm today, he said, as on the day of the armistice.

Cost Of Raising Calves

Experimental Station At Lethbridge Figures The Cost At $82.32

The cost of raising a calf into a well grown thirty-eight lb. found to be $82.32 by the experimental station of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Lethbridge, Alberta.

This figure is arrived at from the cost record of nine calves from an average of thirty-eight days to an average age of thirteen months. The total feed cost for the nine head of dairy calves was $24.50. They were fed 6,700 pounds of whole milk priced at $3.60 per cwt., $24.50; 11,988 pounds of skim milk at 25 per cent., $29.97; 2,310 pounds of experimental farm calf mixture at $2.50 per cwt., $58.78; 2,651 pounds of oats at $1.60 per cwt., $42.74; 3,280 pounds of cruetage at $4.00 per cwt., $131.20; 4,300 pounds of alfalfa hay at $10 per ton, $24.50; 30 pounds of salt, $3.00; they were kept on pasture at $2.00 per acre, $2.00; and on stable pasture 14 days at 25 cents per head, per day, $3.50.

Has Become Important

Gdynia Is Poland's New and Only Modern Seaport

"What, never heard of Gdynia, in the Baltic?" said the insurance man rather haughtily at the club luncheon. Four of us admitted we never had, writes "Lookers-On" in the London Daily Chronicle. Indeed, we three doubt upon the existence of such a port. Yet he declared he had been effecting insurance on cargoes to it for some time past. We looked it up in atlases. No mention of it. "He must have been the Polish name for Gdynia, which is Gdansk, and Gdansk," we said. Yet next day he turned up with cutting about Gdynia from a shipping paper. Five years ago it was a fishing village of 500 inhabitants. Now it is a fully equipped modern port. It is Poland's only one. That is why they have been so quick about making it.

Not Liable To Change

"What's the idea?" belittled the poleman to the stalled motorist. "You've been parked here more than an hour."

"What's the idea yourself?" rejoined the motorist. "I can't go ahead until the traffic signal turns green."

"Well, make yourself comfortable for a long wait," said the poleman. "That red light's on a fire box."

Mother—Why are you so unkind to nurse? Don't you like her?

Child—No, I hate her. I'd like to pinch her cheek, like daddy does.

Building Up Red Colonies

Transportation Of Boxes By Package Proving Satisfactory

One of the most effective ways of building red colonies up to full production is the importation of package boxes. C. B. Goodenham, B.S.A., the Dominion Agronomist, in a pamphlet on package boxes, now available at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, states that the transportation of bees by package is proving very satisfactory, and may be done safely anywhere in Canada. With proper care and management they will build up into strong producing colonies the first season.

In the prairie provinces and other areas where the main honey flow comes early package bees are unable to build up to full strength before the flow starts and cannot be expected to lay as much eggs.

A development of importance in this connection is the establishment of the fact that it is now possible to ship package bees without comb, the advantage of the new method being that it prohibits the possibility of the bees being disturbed by the beginner may have a little more trouble with package bees than he has with bees already established on comb, he is at least certain that his bees will be free from disease.

When purchasing package bees it is important to consider that the bees should be ready to receive them when they arrive, and also that there is a continuous supply of food for them until they can gather enough for themselves.

Frozen-Pack Strawberries

Frozen Berries Can Be Used As Fresh Fruit In Winter Months

Some rather interesting and apparently satisfactory results are reported in connection with recent experiments relating to the cold storage handling of strawberries.

A feature at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair last year, was the fine appearance and quality of apparently fresh Canadian frozen strawberries. An item on the menu of the All-Canadian Products Dinner, these berries came from British Columbia. In June, and had been kept in a frozen condition in cold storage.

An Ontario jam factory recently received a consignment of the same pack of berries, which they report were in good condition.

The surplus crop of strawberries was sent by the British Columbia growers to the Government Experimental Plant, where the fruit was washed and graded under government supervision, packed in barrels with ice, sealed and then placed in cold storage where they have since been kept at a temperature of 15 degrees Fahrenheit above zero. Last year's pack contained 2,100 lbs. of berries. The result of this experiment indicates that the berries kept sufficiently cold to be used as "fresh" fruit, and marketed as a really first class article.

New Land Map

Crown Land Still Available In Each Township

The Department of the Interior has issued a new edition of a land map which shows at a glance the total number of quarter sections of Crown land still available in each township. The map also indicates Dominion Land Office, existing railway facilities in each district and provides the customary information regarding cities, towns and villages.

A copy of this map together with other material of interest to the prospective settler may be obtained free of charge on application to the Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior, at Ottawa.

The Story Of Mike

Little Crippled Indian Boy Who Is Being Helped By The Red Cross

One of the inmates of the Junior Red Cross Hospital, in the capital city of Edmonton, Alberta, is a little Indian lad of the name of Mike. He has an interesting story to tell of how he came to be in the wards of the hospital. For his own home is in the wilds of the hinterlands of the North. His people are of the wandering tribes that make their living with trapping and fishing. One day their tents were pitched in a little town by the banks of a wide river, where people kept in touch with the world outside by means of radio. One observed with wonder the many arials that hung above woodlind cabins like spider webs strung across the trees.

One of the listeners heard a weekly feature program of the Red Cross, with special reference to the work in Alberta of the Crippled Children's Hospital. The lad who had never walked and lay in a tape in the woods came to him at once, and he resolved to see what could be done.

Not only had Mike lain helpless on the ground, but his mind had never been trained to read or write, and he never had set foot inside a school room at any time. The Providence which moves in a mysterious way with best, already established on comb, he is at least certain that his bees will be free from disease.

You will find him in a clean white coat, looking bright and alert. He will tell you that he is learning to read and write, and that his body is getting better day by day, and soon, when he gets his plaster jacket on, he will perhaps be able to get quite well and strong again like other lads, for in the wards of the Junior Red Cross Hospital hope springs eternal.

Plays Organ In Notre Dame

Sixteen-Year-Old Girl First Woman To Touch Instrument

A woman, for the first time, has played the great organ of Notre Dame Cathedral, an instrument two centuries old, and played at Napoleon's coronation.

The woman, really is a girl, Renee Nizan, 16 years old, but already a noted organist, often applauded at concerts.

Even during the days of the Revolution, when Notre Dame was sacked and turned into a "Temple of Reason," with a ballet dancer receiving there as "Liberty," and later during the Commune, no woman, so far as recorded, ever touched the old organ.

A Prayer For Motorists

The Christian Register prints the prayer of Harry McCreary:

"Teach us to drive through life without shuddering into the cold business. Preserve our brake lining, that we may stop before we go too far. Help us to hear the knock of our own motors and close our ears to the clashing of other people's gears. Keep alcohol in our radiators and out of stomachs. Absolve us from the mania of trying to pass the other automobile on a narrow road. Open our eyes to the traffic signs, and keep our feet on the brakes."

Preparing For Taking Census

Next Decennial Census Will Be Taken In 1931

Preparations are being made for taking another decennial census in Canada. It is to be taken in 1931. Credit for taking the first modern and scientific census is claimed by Canada. This was taken of the Colony of New France, in Canada, in 1666. It was a systematic "nominal" enumeration of the people, taken on what was known as the "de jure" principle, of a fixed date, showing age, sex, occupation and conjugal and family condition. That census recorded 3,215 souls.

The census to be taken in Canada next year will give employment to 15,000 persons, or about five times as many people as the entire population of Canada when the first census was taken. They will cover the expansive area of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the International Boundary to the Arctic. The actual work of enumeration will begin in June, 1931, under the direction of the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics.

The first classification in the census is the population of the country. The sex, birth and death, then the migrations of the people, sex, age, nationality, occupation, etc., are recorded. Social statistics is a third classification. This includes population in all its forms, mines, transportation, marriage, finance. Altogether there are 36 main headings and 57 sub-sections.

Has Important Knowledge

Family Doctor In Position To Know Medical History Of Patients

In considering the possible scope of the service that a general practitioner or family doctor can perform, it is well to bear in mind the results of modern study of diseases. It has been shown that early diagnosis and treatment of infantile paralysis will also save the patient from being crippled for life. It has been shown, too, that early diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis will effect a cure in most cases, and that preventive measures can be taken against certain maladies. Such advances in knowledge of diseases would suggest that a family physician, in a position to become thoroughly acquainted with the medical histories of his patients and to learn their physical condition from time to time, might be more useful now to his patients than he could have been at any time in the past.

The first Canadian woman Senator, Hon. Clifline McKay Wilson, is the mother of eight children ranging in age from 20 to 4. During the latter part of last week morning temperatures ranged around 10 degrees of frost, but on Saturday it commenced to thaw and remained mild until last night when a steadily dropping temperature continuing through the night brought the mercury down to 10 degrees below zero this morning. A stiff wind accompanied by fine snow was blowing this morning, but subsided early in the afternoon.

The Richard Kent Stock Co., which is booked at Oyen Theatre every four weeks, presented their second play here last Thursday.

A cast of five, headed by Mr. Louis Delmar, presented a three act farce comedy entitled "The Humbug" which was well received. A counter attraction of the mixed hospital, undoubtedly affected the attendance, but what the audience lacked in numbers was largely offset by their enthusiastic reception of the presentation.

The next booking, a western play entitled "The Nestors" will be here on Thursday, April 10.

Stock companies playing small town circuits are necessarily restricted in the selection of plays used for presentation. Travelling and general expenses have to be seriously considered and cut to a minimum, and one of the first considerations is the number of players necessary to complete the cast of a vehicle chosen. In making their selections, the Richard Kent Co., always endeavor to provide good clean entertainment with a minimum of players taking part. They guarantee their shows and ask your patronage on this basis.
